POE

THE MAN, THE MYTH, THE MACABRE

DINNER THEATRE

When Edgar Allan Poe died mysteriously in 1849 at just 40, he left behind over 75 works and a reputation as a mediocre writer. Little did he know—he'd become a legend! Today, Poe is a Halloween icon, inspiring movies, books, and eerie conspiracy theories.

Join us for a spooky evening at the Strand Theater in Downtown Fremont! Enjoy dinner and a chilling presentation by Historical Interpreter Kent McClary, featuring Poe's life, poetry, and horror tales. And if you spot an empty chair on stage... well, let's just say Poe might still be watching!
